Change in Postoffice.

New mailing boxes have been placed in the postoffice to facilitate the dispatch of letters. The boxes are labelled, Eastern Letters, Southern Letters, Northern and Western Letters, and City Letters. People should be very careful and observe this, as it will be to their advantage, for mail in one box will go at the time the mail in that direction goes and will have preference over all the other boxes. Letters not mailed right will be liable to lay over twenty-four hours, as the business has greatly increased already over last year, and this has become absolutely necessary. Mail your letters in the proper boxes.

The happy couple left for Salt Lake on the 3d, and will continue their bridal tour through the southern states. The HERALD extends its heartiest congratulations.

Fearful Accident.

Another fatal railroad accident in this part of the country has come to our ears, though the railroad officials interviewed by our reporters have been rather chary with the particulars.

It appears that in the early morning of Sunday, the 7th instant, a freight train on the switch at the Evanston depot broke loose and tore westward on the main track. It consisted of fifteen "empties" and two "loads." About three miles this side of Evanston, the train met the special tea train which had left Ogden Saturday night. Before anybody could provide against the fearful results the inevitable collision occurred. The engine of the east-bound train was damaged considerably and the runaway cars smashed to a serious extent. But the most deplorable consequence of the fearful collision was the killing of the fireman and a brakeman. The engineer himself, so we are told, had his shoulder dislocated, besides sustaining other injuries. The unfortunate men who met such a sudden and sad death while in the discharge of their duty, are well known to railroaders here.—Ogden Herald.

Why Do People Have

Two sets of teeth? They don't shed arms and legs to get new ones. Teeth are indispensable, and the Creator gives two chances. When one uses SOZODONT even among babies, it preserves the "deciduous teeth," and helps to strengthen the permanent.

His Amber Witch.

As anticipated, the third performance of "His Amber Witch" at the theatre last night drew out a very large audience. All that had been said in favor of the play and its renderer, was fully sustained by last night's performance, which was excellent in every respect. Miss Adams is to be congratulated on the possession of so valuable a play, and there is no doubt that it will be a source of wealth to her, as well as a drama in which she can win new laurels as an actress.

Difficult Operation.

LOGAN, January 6th, 1883.

Editors Herald:

On Tuesday, December 26th, 1882, Dr. J. B. Groesbeck of this place, removed a tumor from the neck of Mr. Joseph E. Demeres. It was first discovered about two years ago, and seemed to be gradually growing. Becoming annoyed, more from its unsightly appearance, than from pain, he submitted to an operation April 4th, 1882, by which only a part of the tumor was removed. Supuration and apparently rapid growth supervened to an alarming extent, and he consulted many surgeons in Salt Lake City, Montana, and other places, resulting only in conflicting opinions and advice. Returning to Logan, much discouraged, in bad health, and depressed spirits, he finally consulted Dr. Groesbeck, who was formerly United States assistant surgeon of volunteers, in the war of the rebellion, by whom he was taken under careful treatment, preparatory to an operation. His health was rapidly improved and the tumor removed as stated above. The patient was brought under the influence of chloroform by Dr. H. K. Cranney after which it was maintained by a lady—Dr. Groesbeck's wife—while Dr. Cranney and Mr. W. Crockett, the patient's brother-in-law, assisted Dr. Groesbeck in the operation, which was a most difficult and dangerous one, as the tumor was spread over the lower part of the face, under and back of the angle of the lower jaw, and under and back of the ear, thus involving a careful dissection and difficult dissection among the important vessels of the neck, all of which was carefully accomplished. The patient stood the operation well, rallied well, and, at this date, the wound is nearly healed. The patient is up and around the house to good health, and spirits, rejoicing in relief from his terrible affliction. The prominence and publicity of his case, renders the operation worthy of public notice.

Respectfully,

JUSTICE.

A Calf Thief.

On Friday morning Mr. D. Murdoch, living in the Twentieth Ward, missed a very well bred calf which he was raising, and inquiry showed that it had been stolen. He formed the opinion that a man named Day had stolen it, because he had been very anxious to purchase it. The police went to Day's residence and found the calf there with another one. Day was arrested and claimed that he bought the calf for $250 from some boys. He waived examination and was bound over in $300 to await the action of the grand jury.

The Unity Club.

The entertainment given by the Unity Club in the Twelfth Ward Assembly Room, a week ago, is to be repeated on Wednesday night. This repetition is due to a very urgent request, not only from many who saw the delightful entertainment, but from a large number who were unable to be present. It was so pronounced a success that the evening of the performance hundreds were heard to remark that it should certainly be repeated. The experience of the members has suggested a number of improvements which are to be made. Some parts will be eliminated and new things introduced, and the whole will make a delightful, novel and attractive entertainment. Messrs. H. M. Wells and Laron Cummings have volunteered to assist in the entertainment, and their offer will be taken advantage of. The proceeds will be devoted to the benefit of the Deseret Hospital and cannot fail to be as great a success financially and a greater one artistically than the first. The programme is published elsewhere this morning. The front doors of the Twelfth Ward Assembly Hall have been arranged now so that they can be used for ingress and egress, a thing which will add very materially to the comfort and confidence of the public. There is no doubt whatever that this meritorious performance will draw a big house.

A Model Hall.

Editors Herald:
 SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 8, 1883.
 I think it important to all who contemplate the building of public halls for theatrical purposes, that their attention should be directed to the admirable plan of the new hall in Springville. In all this country I know of no hall so practically perfect and so well adapted to theatrical and other purposes. It has been built judiciously, without foolish expenditure of money upon unimportant details, but with full liberality where liberality is most needed.

In my experience as a scenic artist, I have painted the scenery for forty theatres and halls in the several states in the Union, and have, I suppose, seen hundreds, and I am certain that I do not speak with over enthusiasm when I say that this is the best hall (I do not say theatre) that I have ever seen anywhere. I believe that this should be the model upon which should be built all future halls in Utah, whether larger or smaller. I am astonished to find here an ordinary hall with a theatre stage. The whole plan is so admirable that it seems to me to be of importance that it be given wide publicity.

PERSONAL.

Mr. J. S. Roberts, of Butte City, is in Salt Lake. Mr. Roberts is one of the heaviest builders and contractors in Montana, a keen business man, and a gentleman very well to do. He is now on his way to Washington to spend a couple of weeks, and has stopped in Salt Lake to see old friends. He reports Butte as in a most flourishing condition; that the mines are looking better than ever before, and that the camp has never had a more permanent and solid outlook than now. A great deal of building has been done and the prospects are that more will be done next season than ever before. Mr. Roberts seems perfectly sanguine regarding the future of Butte. It is not unlikely he will give Salt Lake a call on his return from Washington.
